MEETING MINUTES
BRICS Network University
International Governing Board
Extraordinary Meeting held on 2 July 2025

As per a decision taken during its meeting held on 12 May 2025, an extraordinary meeting of the International Governing Board (hereinafter IGB) of the BRICS Network University (hereinafter BRICS NU) was convened on 2 July 2025 via videoconference. The meeting was chaired by the Ministry of Education of Brazil. The list of participants is enclosed (Annex I).

Opening and welcome remarks: the Chair recalled the previous meeting of the IGB, held on 12 May 2025, where the IGB welcomed the updated list of institutions from member countries participating in the BRICS-NU starting from 2025. The last meeting also approved an expansion in the maximum number of participating universities per country to twenty-two, in order to allow two universities per country in each thematic group. The chair recalled the Protocol on Accession of Indonesia to the Memorandum of Understanding on the establishment of the BRICS Network University, which was signed during the 12th Meeting of BRICS Ministers of Education, on 5 June 2025. The Chair also recalled the Regulations of the IGB, adopted in 2017, which specifies that each country shall nominate three members for the IGB, at least one of whom is a representative of the National Education Ministry and at least one of whom is a representative of a BRICS-NU participant from the National Coordinating Committee (NCC).

Nomination of new participating universities: Government representatives from countries presented updates to the lists of nominated institutions. The meeting welcomed and approved new participants (see Annex II). With the new additions, participation at the BRICS-NU is currently as follows:

Federative Republic of Brazil: 20 universities

People's Republic of China: 22 universities

Arab Republic of Egypt: 22 universities

Republic of India: 22 universities

Republic of Indonesia: 22 universities

Islamic Republic of Iran: 22 universities

Russian Federation: 22 universities

Republic of South Africa: 14 universities

United Arab Emirates: 12 universities

Total: 178 universities

With the new entries, the current composition of the 11 existing Thematic Groups is as shown below (Annex III).

Streamlining of the International Thematic Groups: In line with the BRICS NU 2017 Statute (item 5.2), each country shall nominate two members for each International Thematic Group (ITG). With the expansion process, this rule has become even more important for the proper functioning of the ITGs, given the larger number of institutions involved and the need to increase internal coordination. The IGB recalled the importance of the ITGs for the BRICS-NU to achieve its stated goals. The Chair thanked the governments of China, Egypt, Iran, Russia and the United Arab Emirates for reviewing the number of participating universities per ITG.

Choice of the new BRICS NU Coordinating University: With the conclusion of the Peoples' Friendship University of Russia's term as the Coordinating University of the BRICS NU, the IGB thanked and congratulated once again RUDN for the comprehensive work developed and for the efforts made on behalf of the Network. The IGB was invited to decide on the institution that will assume the coordinating role for the 2025–2028 term, in accordance with the 2022 Beijing Consensus. The Chair recalled that a call for candidacies was extended to all BRICS countries. In response, the following countries presented candidacies: Brazil (São Paulo state University – UNESP) and China (Harbin Institute of Technology – HIT). After deliberation, the IGB decided on a joint coordination between UNESP and HIT as the Coordinating Universities of the BRICS-NU for the 2025–2028 term. The two universities were tasked with meeting subsequently to agree on the division of duties related to the coordination, in particular the development of the BRICS-NU website. The strategic division of responsibilities is to be presented back, via email, to the IGB.

These meeting minutes were approved as the last item on the agenda.
